How we can help

Our crisis houses offer short term crisis intervention to help individuals avoid having to be admitted to hospital.

We work with each person to develop a tailored support package based on their needs. Our packages are designed to enable individuals to work through the period of crisis and, with professional support, identify relevant coping strategies with the view of maintaining positive wellbeing.

Our service offers:

- A warm, comforting and homely environment to tackle a mental health crisis
- Access to trained staff and peer support to develop personalised coping strategies and recovery management techniques.
- Friendly and knowledgeable staff who help you deal with a mental health crisis.
- Education about mental health support and signposting to further services as required.

How to access support

We work with people in a period of crisis aged 18 and over with mental health as a primary support need.

Referrals to our service are made through the Crisis Resolution and Home Treatment Service Team. Contact your local GP or Richmond Fellowship for more information on the referral process.

Our facilities

We offer two five bed crisis houses in Lincolnshire. Both houses are decorated to a high standard, providing you with a comforting and homely space to tackle your mental health crisis.

Both houses have a communal kitchen, lounges and a spacious garden area. Both houses are within walking distance of local shops and amenities with public transport links providing access.

Our services are staffed 24hours a day, seven days a week by our friendly and highly trained team.
