

Who we are

Sparky's is a new venture from national mental health charity Richmond Fellowship.

We're a social business where the people we support come before profit.

We provide good quality food and a place for people to work and volunteer to help them along their recovery journey.

The staff working at Sparky's all have experience of mental health problems or substance misuse and many are on their own recovery journey. Sparky's provides apprentice and volunteering opportunities to give our staff the skills and confidence.

Where your money goes

Sparky's is a not-for profit café meaning your money goes directly to helping people living with mental health problems or overcoming substance misuse. Every cup of tea served at Sparky's helps improve lives and helps us in our work to tackle stigma and end social isolation.

Thank you for your support.

Recovery Story - Lee

Lee first came to Sparky's after a number of years living with mental health problems. Following the break down of his family life he found himself unemployed and struggling to cope with his mental health.

Sparky's helped Lee overcome his anxiety and depression, helping develop his skills in the kitchen and his confidence. He has now moved into full time work at a respected hotel.
